

iClearer

Identity system

Every Mac fills up.

iClearer makes it clear what is safe to let go.

A clear spot.

The dot is the clarity. The stem is the swipe that reveals it.

Lens, Sweep, Spark
Retired. Not used.

Three layers, one light. Everything that is not the swipe or the clear spot has been removed.

Tile 1024 × 1024, superellipse n = 5 (Apple's continuous corner).

Bead is 1.33× the stem width, so the mark never reads as a plain info glyph.

Stem is a true capsule: both ends are exact semicircles.

Top and bottom margins are equal (163 units).

Mark scale 1.14 inside the tile for presence at small sizes.

Light comes from the upper left on every surface.

Tinted

Same geometry, three finishes. Tinted uses neutral glass so the system accent can color it.

Voice

Plain. Short sentences. No fear words.
“Moves to Trash.” Never “Destroys junk.”
See first. Undo anything. Keychain stays.

A quick web check found no product named iClearer. That is not trademark clearance.

iCleaner (iOS cleaner) sounds almost identical. Have an attorney assess it.

Avoid iClearMyPhone: MacPaw sells CleanMy®Phone. Use “iClearer for iPhone”.

Search USPTO, EUIPO TMview and WIPO for the name and the logo. Reverse-image-search the mark.
